W. J. BRYAN DENIES STORY PRINTED ABOUT HIM

(By Associated Press.)
PITTSBURG, PA., March 8.—William
J. Bryan, in an interview this evening, denied that he will lead a revolt from the Democratic party in case the Gold Democrats capture the National Convention, as was reported to-day from New York.

It was said he would bolt the convention and lead an independent movement.

Mr. Bryan said that not only had he not made any such statement, but that the contemplated action was improbable, and he did not discuss improbabilities. "Never will you find the Gold Democratic convention of national importance; the very idea of it is flowed in the contemplated action was improbable, and he did not discuss improbabilities. HUMAN SKULL, BUT WITH HORNS

Find on Oregon Farm Savors of Prehistoric Ages.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PENDLETON, ORE., March 3.-A human skull, with horns, savors of the prehistoric ages, but the presence of one or the farm of Thomas Adkins, eight miles south of here, is evidence that such queer things still exist.

Adkins decided to search a heap of stones piled up on the farm near McKay Creek. The heap had been there as long as the oldest settler could remember. Adkins threw aside the pile and found underneath stones, built in a grave-like form. Three feet down a skeleton came to light. It belonged to a short, heavy, set being of the human species. The back joints were very heavy. The skull contained extremely prominent jaw-bones, with strange, wide teeth. Horns about two inches long projected from each side of the head.

away, and, of course, killed. The engineer of the passenger train saw what had happened and stopped his train as soon as he could, and backed to the spot. The crew of the freight had by this time laid the bruised and broken body of their comrade beside the track where he had been killed. Many of the passengers alighted and viewed the remains. The express came on to Richmond, leaving the body there. It was brought to the city later in the evening and taken to the undertaking rooms of Laube.

Mr. Nichois came to Richmond from Halifax county, and has been in the employ of the Chesapeake and Ohio for about three years. He was regarded by his employers as a trustworthy man and his record was good. No report had ever been made against him during his connection with the road.

Nichols was about twenty-seven years of age and unmarried. He boarded with Mr. G. W. Valden, No. 306 East Cary Street. His remains will be taken to Halifax to-day for burlai.

If the unfortunate man deliberately killed himself it is a mystery. None of his associates know any reason why he should wish to take his life.

BIG INCREASE IN THE BUSINESS

Remarkable Strides Made by the Richmond Post-

The rapidly-growing business of the Richmond postoffice is evidenced by the report for the month of February. The sale of postage stamps, the receipts from box rents and from newspapers amounted to $20,005.47. For the corresponding period of last year the receipts from the same sources aggregated $26,847.29, showing an increase of $3,164.18. In other words, the

THE WAR EXCITEMENT INTERFERES WITH TRADE

After the woman's conviction there came up spontaneously a petition to Queen Victoria, signed by,500,000 or more Britons, asking Mrs. Maybrick's pardon. It was not granted as the Home Secretary advised against it. For six years Mrs. Maybrick was confined at hard labor in prison, but during the last seven years she has a freer and easier time. She is now at Alisworth prison, which is exclusively for women.

British sentiment against the woman has been relaxing for several years. Now there is every good reason to make the statement that King Edward VII. has caused it to be known through the proper channels that he will set Mrs. Maybrick free in a little over a year.

WHO MAYBRICK WAS.

James Maybrick was a rich Englishman MOBILE, ALA., March 3.—The war excitement is so great at Puerto Cortez, Honduras, and labor so scarce, because the people have fled to the interior, that the steamer Espana could not get more than a third of a cargo of bananas. The Espana sailed for Mobile Saturday and brings $70,000 in coin shipped out by Puor-to Cortez merchants for safe keeping.

MHO MAYBRICK WAS.

James Maybrick was a rich Englishman and was a cotton broker in Norfolk.

There Miss Florence Chandler met and married him. The desk he formerly lased is now in the Virginia-Carolina Chemical offices in Norfolk. Soon after the marriage they went to England to reside, and not long thereafter the death of Mr. Maybrick occurred.

President Harrison and his Secretary of State, James G. Blaine, thought Mrs.
Maybrick had lost her American citizenship and would not interfere. President McKinley, over the protest of his Secretary of State, John Sherman, after reviewing the evidence, made official reship and would a deed to lands in Southmult and void a deed to lands in Southwestern Virginia, which she deeded away the night of her conviction. It is claimed that this property was sold by her and assigned for $10.000 when she was in no sert of mental condition to know what she was doing. Therefore, it is very important to have her testify when the suit tomes to trial.

The whole case, if it could be printed in full, would read like a romance. The property Mrs. Maybrick lays claim to was inherited. It was that given by the State of Virginia to James Swann, a Boston merchant, who gave aid to shils Common
